

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

This one-sided propaganda is a clear misuse of the public's air waves. The FCC's charge is to guarantee that licensees serve the public interest, not undermine it.

Sinclair's actions show why the FCC needs to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them.